its way to much cunfusing and no good tutrial. Exceptional tennis game! It has been worked on after launch and is amazing now!. It's a fun Platformer - Side Scroller shooter, like those retro style side scroller shooter games from Megaman and Metroid. Very fun game if you're bored or just want to kill some time.. Very mediocre, Choices don't mean much, and what ending you get is simply determined by choosing which student you want at the end of the game. The character's aren't particularly compelling, the story premise is weak, and god knows why one of the students is studying under a master painter to become a manga artist.. well this game is short AF!. Presentable side-scrolling beat 'em up, with dual character synergy attempts. Fighters go through bite-sized challenges, each with draining special attacks and a limited health pool. Some clunky attack choices, but overall decent variety, if better in co-op than alone.. A nice series of 10 min episodes that will explain the past of some characters from MK...

Worths a watch!. used to play this one on a ps1 back in 2002. great rpg. The Dev just went full loco and update to 3.0 after 3 years without any update. BUY NOW

Did not enjoy at all, incredibly glitchy controls, terrible lighting, visuals, music. Just a mess all over. Refused refund. I have literally found free games on GameJolt that were of higher quality.. It's a fine game to pass the time to, I recommend you get it on sale though. It's not a great game just an ok one. Plenty of what you do doesn't even make sense, or will have you thinking, "oh wow...really? What?" It's also completely unrelated to the first game so there's that too. By the way if you're achievement hunting you HAVE to play it twice no matter how thorough you are. There's a set of achievements for mahjong, and a set of achievements for hidden objects. Those two are attached to each other you either do one or hit the switch button and do the other. Completing one does not qualify for both though. So you have to play through and do either a full run of mahjong or a full run of hidden object, then go back start another game when you done and do just the one you didn't do before otherwise you won't have 100% of the achievements. The time I have logged that you can see is from doing 2 runs to get all of the achievements.. First time I play this game about 6 month ago, and it was good. But now it's much better!

It's an old-fashioned game with a non-stop action.

Graphics, music, sound effects - everything is nice. Good storyline. Interesting perks in RPG mode.

I like it! This game is for true ninjas :). This is a quite good little roguelike; deep enough to provide for actual replayability (as opposed to getting bored on your first couple playthroughs), with some interesting but predictable story elements. You don't have the range of actions one of the old school deeper roguelikes gave you, but if you ever played one of the older CGA/EGA tile based adventure games (such as Ranadinn), this is a bit like that, mixed with some Nuclear Throne and some modern roguelike elements.. Well, after investing such a long time into playing this game, which in fact is my favorite game, I felt personally obligated to put credit where it is due. As of playing this game for over 1,500 hours now, I've truly experienced the many positive and negative sides to this game. Often enough when playing the game, I will quite often complain about things like desync, frame rate issues, lag, and the (certainly interesting) multiplayer experience. There are many things to complain about, however this IS a review and not a rant. I feel fine overlooking the game's issues because the things it has given to me has certainly been worth my time and money.

I'd call a game good when I've got more hours under my belt than money spent. Well, I've played this game 100 times more than the amount it costs, I love it. Now thy holy Fluppi393, bring us some big updates plox. I want that water ;-; This game gave me so many hours of fun, the level design was amazing, the way everything worked was great, and I loved how sometimes I'd be so close to the next flag and I'd be shaking in terror as I wondering if I was going to be able to throw myself correctly to grab onto the next rock or stick my climbing axe into the next rock. Can't believe this game hasn't blown up, it's absolutely so much fun. I'd get sweaty, my lenses would get foggy but I just kept going! All I'd think about would be sticking my axe into some ice, or having fun throwing myself into the void! 10/10 one of my favorite VR games, if not, one of my favorite games ever.. I'm a big fan of story based adventures, but this one just didn't sit terribly well with me. It's a neat concept, and I really like the combat system, actually, which is simple but strategic, but it doesn't feel terribly deep. There are many legitimate choices involved in the game, but it doesn't feel like they ultimately amount to much beyond tools with which to approach later challenges. The ability to replay events that go poorly is nice so as to avoid the need to replay the whole game when something goes wrong, but it takes much of the suspense out of things. The large number of spells (48!) whose names you want to learn in order to use them in battle are ... annoying, at best. I'd rather pull from a simple list than have to choose random letters.

I had a bad taste in my mouth from King of Dragon Pass and this reminds me of it too closely for me to enjoy playing it. If you want to give me simple, then give me simple. Don't make me memorize or reference lots of lore/lists to deal with things quickly.. FUING QOP FACE AT 1:29
